Conference SPEAKERS

The keynote speaker:

Philip Duffy | Corporal, Pennsylvania State Police

Philip Duffy serves as Corporal with the Pennsylvania State Police. His career began in 1994 as a Trooper in the PSP Gettysburg Patrol Unit. He later transitioned into the Criminal Investigation Unit and remained there for 5 years serving both the PSP York and Gettysburg Stations. As a Criminal Investigator, he specialized in child sexual abuse cases and conducted both child/victim interviews and suspect interrogations. His career then led him to the position of Trooper in the Member Assistance Program (a program dedicated to providing confidential emotional support to prevent debilitating stress and promote emotional well-being among all State Police personnel and their families). As Central Regional Coordinator, he responded to critical incidents such as the Nickel Mines Shooting. In February of 2007, he was promoted to Corporal and served in the position of Patrol Supervisor at PSP Gettysburg. After several months, he was appointed as the Criminal Investigation Unit Supervisor at PSP Gettysburg. In December of 2009, he transferred to Pennsylvania State Police Academy as an Instructor in the Criminal Law Unit. In March of 2011, Corporal Duffy was appointed as Supervisor of the Criminal Law Unit. Corporal Duffy is also a facility member of the Pennsylvania ChildFirst Team.

Craig E. Hill | Associate Director of Law Enforcement Training & Outreach, NCMEC

After 35 years of service in the Kansas City metropolitan area, Craig Hill retired as the Deputy Chief of the Leawood, Kansas Police Department. In 1984, after working the abduction of a 10-year-old girl, Mr. Hill co-founded The Lost Child Network (LCN), a non-profit Child Resource Center in Kansas City. In 1998, LCN merged with the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children (NCMEC) becoming its 5th branch office (Kansas City Branch). Mr. Hill has spent over 27 years providing training and presenting lectures on the crimes committed against children to communities, law enforcement, government agencies, colleges, and universities throughout the United States and parts of Canada. During his career he has received numerous awards for his work on missing children cases. These include the 1985 recovery of 2 kidnapped children from Kansas found 2 ½ years later in Arkansas, the 1992 recovery of a 12-year-old girl, found in Florida 6 years after she was abducted by using an age-progressed photograph, and the 2005 arrest and later conviction of a 29 year old Connecticut man for the abduction and homicide of a teenage girl. Mr. Hill attended the first White House Conference on Missing, Exploited, and Runaway Children and was invited to the Rose Garden for the signing of The PROTECT Act of 2003. Mr. Hill is a graduate from the 8th Session of the FBI Law Enforcement Executive Development Program, the 203rd Session of the FBI Academy, and recipient of the FBI Director's Community Leadership Award. In November of 2005, after serving 10 years on NCMEC Board of Directors, he accepted a position as an Associate Director of Law Enforcement Training & Outreach.

David A. Betz | Sergeant, Harford County Sheriff's Office

Sergeant David A. Betz is a twenty-three year veteran of the Harford County, MD Sheriff's Office and is the former director for the Harford County Child Advocacy Center. He has additionally served in many capacities during his career to include the investigation of child abuse cases since 1998; Public Information Officer/Spokesperson; supervisor of the School Policing Unit; member of the Special Response Team, and assignments within the Patrol Division. He is an instructor for the Maryland Police and Correctional Training Commission, is a member of the Maryland Finding Words Core Training Team and has instructed for several organizations throughout the United States. He also serves as a National Children's Alliance Accreditation site reviewer. He is a former president, former vice president, and current treasurer of the Maryland Children's Alliance. He received the Commissioner's Award, from the Office of Children Youth and Families for the state of Maryland in 2007 and the Harford County Sheriff's Office Instructor of the Year, 2007 from the Maryland Police and Correctional Training Institute. He has a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from Liberty University and a Master's Degree in Management from Johns Hopkins University.

SESSION I

A1

FULL DAY WORKSHOP

Protecting Our Children. Part 1

Craig Hill

This comprehensive training program is a full-day course that presents updated information on the dynamics of crimes committed against children, from sexual abuse and exploitation to sex trafficking and abduction. The program will cover the vulnerability of victims, the tactics used by the offenders, and the latest prevention strategies to protect children in the real world and online.

Since its launch in 2007, Protecting Our Children has been presented to more than 10,000 attendees, representing more than 4,000 agencies in 34 states and British Columbia.

B1

INDIVIDUAL WORKSHOPS

Child Abuse...What Else Could It Be?

Jen McNew

Participants should include multi-disciplinary team members that may respond to child abuse investigations. This workshop will provide many other alternatives to things that mimic physical abuse. These will include: skin conditions, non-specific redness and other changes of the body, folk and religious practices and other medical conditions. This training will provide the investigative team a basic understanding of other possibilities to child physical abuse that may still warrant a visit to a health care provider. Warning, there will be some graphic pictures during this lecture.

COMMUNITY OR PROFESSIONAL MEMBER WORKSHOPS

Through the Eyes of a Child. Part 1

Shelly Duckworth-Sheaffer & Joddie Walker

Every parent/caregiver wants their child to excel at all they do, to be happy, and certainly not be overwhelmed by all the challenges they face. Children live in an age where a multitude of experiences may impact them such as divorce, critical injuries, bullying, moving, natural disasters and traumatic loss. Why do some children do better than others even though their experiences of trauma or traumatic loss may be the same? The answer: RESILIENCE. No child can foster resiliency on their own. In this interactive workshop: a) learn how traumatic loss and experiences manifest in behaviors and feelings and impacts learning; b) understand the factors that influence resiliency; c) acquire activities and resources for your later use with the children in your life (personal or professional) as they embark on their journey of hope for a bright tomorrow.

Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking

Louis Morlier III, MSW

This presentation will define and analyze the poorly understood crime of domestic minor sex trafficking (DMST). Participants will 1) define sex trafficking and explore supply and demand factors which fuel the criminal trafficking enterprise; 2) analyze recruiting and control methods used by pimps who traffic minors; 3) explore effective interventions as part of a multidisciplinary response to the sex trafficking of minors.

The Child Witness: Preparing Children for Court

Joddie Walker

This training will give caseworkers, law enforcement and ADA's the tools to help prepare children testifying in dependency court hearings, DPW appeals hearings and criminal court. Research shows that children who are better prepared for court make better witnesses and also experience less trauma and anxiety when going through the court process. Taking the time to complete this program with a child can make all the difference in their ability to handle the stress of this difficult situation. Attendees will understand the stress of discussing potentially traumatic events in the courtroom setting, learn the research relevant to improving children's testimony, learn the elements of a best practice approach to preparing the child, learn how to assess the child's anxiety level related to testifying and, in turn, use tools for preparing and reducing such anxiety and system related trauma.

C3

COMMUNITY OR PROFESSIONAL MEMBER WORKSHOPS

Darkness to Light's® Stewards of Children. Part 1

Rebecca Voss

We know that children are very important to all Adams County residents. Did you know that 1 in 4 girls and 1 in 6 boys will be sexually abused before their 18th birthdays? That the median age for reported sexual abuse is 9 years old? Stewards of Children has a foundation of seven central principles including adult responsibility, community interaction, action and resolve, consciousness, choice, and personal power. The purpose of this training is to teach adults about how to recognize, react, and respond to suspected child sexual abuse.

When Helping Hurts

Joddie Walker & Dave Betz

MDT members called upon to respond to families in crisis understand the immediate and long term impact that exposure to trauma has on families. However, most do not understand, or ignore, the personal and professional impact this has on their overall wellbeing. By virtue of their jobs, police, child protection workers, CAC staff, medical personnel, and mental health professionals are exposed to critical incidents and traumatic experiences (primary or secondary) everyday. In addition to exposure, MDT members may even find themselves as part of the incident. This workshop will provide individuals with the necessary education to overcome these factors and continue in their professions. Facilitated by two MDT Peers in leadership roles--law enforcement and a professional advocate--these dynamic speakers share their own personal experiences with traumatic stress and help bring hope to those whose role it is to bring hope to others.
